

Garcon has cabin fever!

After spending too much time in the South Lafourche Public Library's Cajun cabin, Garcon's ready for a little adventure.

Who is he? He's a stuffed animal, an alligator specifically, and he wants to tag along with you and your family on your next vacation.

If you're going on a trip, take him with you. It's easy.

- Ask to check him out.
- Take him with you on your trip if your schedules match.
- Take a photo of Garcon at your destination. Try to include a landmark in the photo so others will know where he's been. If you'd like, you can get in the photo as well.
- Bring him back to the library with one of his vacation photos and, if you like, a small souvenir (like a postcard).

The library will begin a display highlighting Garcon's adventures. We'll rotate his vacation photos and mementos there.

Garcon is already scheduled to visit Portland, Oregon; Destin, Florida; London, England; and Paris, France.

Where will you take him?
