Confessions on the 7:45 By Lisa Unger

Laura's Pick: ★★★★★

"Selena Murphy is commuting from work one evening after just watching her husband having an affair with their nanny, Geneva, on the nanny cam she moved to the kids' playroom. Upset & confused, she confides in a stranger on the train. The stranger, Martha, in turn confesses she is having an affair with her boss. A few days later, Selena's nanny disappears & Martha starts texting Selena, even though Selena never gave her phone number. This begins a game of cat & mouse with twists & turns wrapped into this well-written psychological suspense thriller. Told from multiple perspectives, but primarily from Selena's, this is a cleverly written tale of deceit, infidelity, secrets, & murder that takes you on a journey with an ending I never saw coming. I do recommend this book for those that love the suspense genre! This is a good mystery that will leave you guessing until the end."

GENRE: Psychological Suspense

The Southern Book Club's Guide to Slaying Vampires By Grady Hendrix

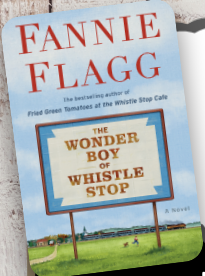

Catherine's Pick: ★★★★★

"The horror genre is harder for me to read than usual this year, but I am glad that I read The Southern Book Club's Guide to Slaying Vampires by Grady Hendrix. Hendrix has been building a reputation in the horror genre with his novels. With this as his newest work, that reputation can only keep growing. The plot is a skillful build & release of tension with a properly cathartic ending. Both physical & psychological horror come into play with characters facing both attacks by stronger & relentless opponents & the equal helplessness of being maneuvered into a situation where they have no chance of convincing anyone that they are telling the truth. This book is a reminder: The fight to protect what is most precious to us will never be easy, & we can only win by working together."

The Wonder Boy of Whistle Stop By Fannie Flagg

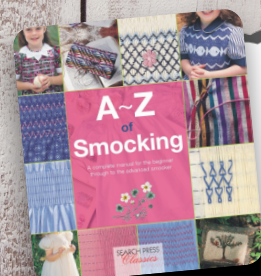

Heather's Pick: ★★★★★

"Welcome back to Whistle Stop! Having grown up in a small community that is most often not on maps, there is a special place in my heart for Whistle Stop, Alabama & all of its residents. I'm so glad that Fannie Flagg decided to bring fans like me back into this world, & the sequel to Fried Green Tomatoes at the Whistle Stop Cafe did not disappoint. Following the life of Bud Threadgoode, who grew up in Whistle Stop, Alabama, with his mom Ruth & his aunt Iddie, this story follows Bud through marriage, becoming a widow, & taking one last trip back home to Whistle Stop. With a collection of old characters & some new ones, The Wonder Boy of Whistle Stop by Fannie Flagg is filled with nostalgia, heart, & a few good laughs!"

A-Z of Smocking By Search Press

Kathy's Pick: ★★★★★

"This comprehensive guide to all things concerning the art of smocking is arranged in an A-Z format with an in-depth index to help you quickly find specific topics. Covering a wide range of stitches, knots, & techniques, this volume gives step-by-step instructions with clear photographs of each step to help the beginner or advanced smocking enthusiast achieve quality results. Instructions are given for pleating your fabric by hand & by using a machine. Best practices are given for blocking & assembling garments. There are even instructions for smocking ready-made knit garments. Embroidery stitches are included to provide embellishment for finished smocked garments. Tips are included throughout the book on numerous topics to help you avoid common pitfalls & to obtain the best results for your individual project. I tried counterchange smocking on striped fabric (without first pleating the fabric) & found that your skill level increases the more you stitch. This book, with its easy-to-follow instructions & numerous color illustrations, will inspire new creations that are a joy to make & beautiful to behold."

Chose the Wrong Guy ... By Beth Harbison

Shannon's Pick: ★★★★★

"Chose the Wrong Guy, Gave Him the Wrong Finger is a delightful read that will make you look at second chances in a whole new way. Ten years ago, Quinn Barton was on her way to the altar to marry Burke Morrison, her high school sweetheart, when something derailed her. Rather, someone derailed her - the Best Man, who at the last minute begged her to reconsider the marriage. He told her that Burke had been cheating on her. Quinn, stunned, hurt, & confused, struggled with the obligation of fulfilling her guests' expectations - providing a wedding - & running for her life. She chose running. With the Best Man. Who happened to be Burke's brother, Frank. That relationship didn't work either. How could it when Quinn had been engaged to, in love with, Frank's brother? Quinn opted for neither & instead, spends the next seventeen years working in her family's bridal shop where she subconsciously does penance for the disservice she did to marriage. But when the two men return to town, old anger, hurt, & passion resurface."

Fast Girls By Elise Hooper

Brooke's Pick: ★★★★★

"The incredibly absorbing Fast Girls by Elise Hooper tells the story of early female runners Betty Robinson, Louise Stokes, & Helen Stephens. Told in alternating POV chapters, Hooper introduces us to the burgeoning talents of these ladies & examines obstacles they faced in their pursuit of the 1936 Olympics. Fast Girls is well-researched, informative, & compelling. Hooper brings to life these 'fast girls' - little known women who paved the way to glory for thousands of female athletes who followed in their iconic footsteps. Insightful, accessible, & intimate, Fast Girls is sure to be loved by fans of biographical historical fiction, as well as those who revel in the Olympic games. Hooper effectively draws readers into the stories of these early female athletes, giving them a voice & stage to show just how far women have come, & reminding us all that we still have a long way to go."

The Girl in the Mirror By Rose Carlyle

Brooke's Pick: ★★★★★

"Rose Carlyle's debut novel The Girl in the Mirror is a finely crafted, heart-pounding novel of suspense. The women's suspense/thriller genre has long been a favorite of mine, but I have found the market to be oversaturated with less than exciting novels as of late. This is just the book I needed to spark & renew my interest & keep me on the edge of my seat. Carlyle meticulously lays down & layers the plot of this book to create a thrilling story that is tense & twisty. Carlyle slowly feeds readers information throughout this novel, & when the twists start happening, it is great fun to look back & see that the signs were there all along. I was truly wrapped up in this taut tale & didn't want it to end. Additionally, I listened to an audiobook production of this novel & I always find it to be a mark of a good story when an audiobook can capture & hold my attention through commuting & exercising. The Girl in the Mirror did just that."

TOP PICK

How to Fail at Flirting
by Denise Williams

(Berkley Jove)

"Naya, a straight-laced professor, meets charismatic Jake at a bar. He might check off one item on Naya's boundary-pushing to-do list—if only he wasn't in charge of defunding her department at the university. How can they balance a relationship and a professional career? For fans of The Kiss Quotient, The Wedding Date, and The Hating Game."

—Kari Bingham-Gutierrez, Olathe Public Library, Olathe, KS
NovelList read-alike: The Trouble with Hating You by Sajni Patel

December 2020 - The top ten books published this month that library staff across the country love.

The Arctic Fury

A Novel
by Greer Macallister (Sourcebooks Landmark)

"Virginia Reeve is a take-no-prisoners adventurer and trail guide when she's asked by a mysterious benefactor to lead a group of 12 women to find the lost captain of the shipwrecked vessel 'The Franklin.' Not for the squeamish or easily offended, this thrilling read is recommended for those who enjoyed Into the Wild and In the Kingdom of Ice."

—Joy Matteson, Downers Grove Public Library, Downers Grove, IL
NovelList read-alike: The North Water by Ian McGuire

How to Catch a Queen

Runaway Royals
by Alyssa Cole
(Avon)

"Shanti and Sanyu are in an arranged marriage, thrown together as his father the King lays dying. As they begin to work together to better the kingdom, they grow closer. Cole weaves humor into the storyline in a way that does not undercut the themes of political action, equity, and adaptation. And as always, Cole's female characters are driven, smart, sexy, and savvy. For fans of Talla Hibbert and Alexa Martin."

—Sarah Skrobis, Staunton Public Library, Staunton, VA
NovelList read-alike: The Betting Vow by K.M. Jackson

Marion Lane and the Midnight Murder

A Novel
by T. A. Willberg
(Park Row)

"Marion is a new recruit of a detective agency that works undercover and under the streets of London. When she gets involved in investigating the death of one of their own agents, she is not sure who she can trust, or what forces are working against her. This is a great start to a new series that is perfect for Agatha Christie and Harry Potter fans alike."

—Sharon Layburn, South Huntington Public Library, Huntington Station, NY
NovelList read-alike: Girl Waits With Gun by Amy Stewart

Pretty Little Wife

A Novel
by Darby Kane
(William Morrow Paperbacks)

"When Aaron doesn't show up for work and no one hears from him, an unofficial investigation begins. What secrets is Lila, his beautiful wife, keeping? The more the police discover, the more questions they have. A thriller for fans of Gone Girl and The Last Mrs. Parrish."

—Chris Markley, Kingsport Public Library, Kingsport, TN
NovelList read-alike: No One Knows by J.T. Ellison

Take It Back

A Novel
by Kia Abdullah
(St. Martin's Press)

"Jodie, a teen with facial deformities, accuses four Muslim boys of raping her after a party. Jodie's mom, her best friend, and her classmates don't believe her. The only one who believes her is Zara Kaleel, a former high powered attorney who now works as a sexual assault advocate. For fans of The Holdout and Night Swim."

—Yvonne Selander, Somerset County Public Library, Bridgewater, NJ
NovelList read-alike: Miracle Creek by Angie Kim

Ten Rules for Faking It

by Sophie Sullivan
(St. Martin's Griffin)

"Anxious Evelyn becomes a sudden podcast star and the romance she was sure was a one-way street, maybe isn't anymore. She can't let her nerves get in the way of happiness. Did I mention that the leading man is completely swoony? For readers who enjoyed The Roommate."

—Emily Flynn, Berkeley County Library System, Summerville, SC
NovelList read-alike: Girl Gone Viral by Alisha Rai

Ten Things I Hate About the Duke

A Difficult Dukes Novel
by Loretta Chase
(Avon)

"In the second book of the Difficult Dukes series, Cassandra Pomfret has a reputation for having strong opinions and not keeping them to herself. Lucius, the Duke of Ashmont, is a devastatingly handsome trouble maker. Let the battle of wills begin. For readers who enjoyed The Rules of Scoundrels series or the Bow Street Bachelors series."

—Jessica McGee, Red Wing Public Library, Red Wing, MN
NovelList read-alike: The Untamed Earl by Valerie Bowman

This Time Next Year

by Sophie Cousens
(Putnam)

"Minnie Cooper and Quinn Hamilton were born in the same hospital on January 1, 1990. After a series of missed connections, they are about to meet again on New Year's Day 2020. This Time Next Year hits the perfect note for readers who enjoyed Bridget Jones' Diary and the original Shopaholic."

—Janet Schneider, Peninsula Public Library, Lawrence, NY
NovelList read-alike: One Day in December by Josie Silver

The Wrong Family

A Thriller
by Tarryn Fisher
(Graydon House)

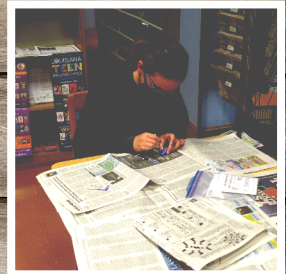

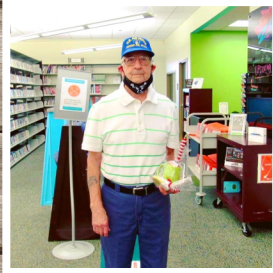

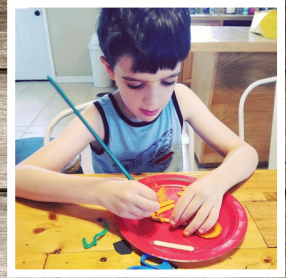

"The Crouches—Winnie, Nigel, and their teenage son Samuel—are perfect on the outside. In reality, Winnie is controlling, Nigel is tuned out, and confused Samuel is trying to forge his own identity. Juno, a former therapist who has become attracted to the Crouches, gets caught up in their family drama and takes the story in a surprising direction. For fans of Ruth Ware and B. A. Paris."

—Connie Laing, Great River Regional Library, St. Cloud, MN
NovelList read-alike: Goodnight Beautiful by Aimee Molloy
